[redacted] Jay Sourwine, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff, called and informed me that two articles have been written or are being written attacking the Agency. One was contained in the 24 June issue of NATION magazine (I told him I was aware of this one) and the other is a piece by Robert Light and Carl Marzani. This second item has been advertized in the 26 June issue of NATIONAL GUARDIAN MAGAZINE and the ad indicates that one of the items contained in it is an SS document reporting on alleged conversations between Mr. Dulles and members of the Nazi party. Sourwine said he assumed that this was another forgery and that if we wished to provide the Subcommittee with a witness or any information which would counter the effect of these two articles, the Subcommittee would be glad to serve as the vehicle for this. I thanked Sourwine for this information and his offer.
